Weekly meetings have started, and we have some exciting changes this year. Each month, students with the best in person attendance will receive an attendance gift which will be based on that month's theme. The themes are intended to be mostly for fun, so don't expect the curriculum to be only about that month's theme. For example, September's theme is "Circus". Prizes for these items are limited, so only expect to receive the incentive if you have the best in person attendance at your school during a given month including Saturday programs.

In addition to these prizes, we are going to start getting you organized for Upward Bound and your school year with some planners and organizers to hold all of the UB curriculum. If you need any other items, please let your advisor know.

This will be another amazing year for UB. We will have our first Saturday program on September 17th. It will be a college visit to UMSL in the morning and then a fun stop at Incredible Pizza in St. Louis for lunch and games. Don't forget to RSVP for that event, if you haven't done so already. Also, remember to check the days, times, and locations of weekly meetings. Some details may have changed since last year. We hope to see you at the first meeting!
